We Expect A Lot From Our Campers and We Are Committed To Build Character

Character is what a person is inside. Our character is revealed by how we act when we think no one else is looking. A person of character has good ethical values that distinguish right from wrong and a strong commitment to do what is right. By showing respect and taking ownership of your actions, you demonstrate character, gain knowledge, and enjoy success!

Trustworthiness

Be honest. Honesty is being truthful in actions and words and accomplishing goals fairly.

- Campers are expected to participate in planned activities with their group. Campers should never be in areas of the building that are not supervised. STAY WITH YOU GROUP AND COUNSELOR!
- Campers are not to leave the premises without a counselor, parent or guardian.
- Drugs, alcoholic beverages, and tobacco products are forbidden on campus.
- Cell phones and electronic devices are highly discouraged while at Summer Camp, and is strictly prohibited. Chosen Generation Community Outreach will not be responsible for stolen property or any damage.

Respect

Be respectful.

- Treat others the way you want to be treated, being courteous in actions and words when someone else is speaking.
- Do not bully or exclude others from the group.
- To not show rudeness in word or action. Do not use profanity.
No BULLYING! No TEASING! No HARRASSING! No PROFANITY!! All of these things will result in dismissal from camp.

Responsibility

Pursue excellence.

- Do your best.
- Try something new with enthusiasm and a positive attitude.

Fairness

Be fair.

- Be open-minded and listen to other people’s opinions, even when they are different than yours.

Caring

Care about others.

- “Build up” your fellow campers; don’t “tear them down.” Tell someone when he or she does a good job or has a good idea.
- Resist name calling or put downs.

Citizenship

Do your share.

- Protect our campus environment by picking up after yourself.
